The W. P. Carey business degree in global politics prepares students for positions in a variety of professions where business and global politics play an important role in ensuring success. The program incorporates solid business skills and global understanding in order to prepare students to realize and analyze the relationship between business and social science.

Students completing this program will think critically about global problems and integrate inquiry and action in order to become responsible leaders. These students will be prepared to successfully launch careers in many fields, including public relations, information analysis, and campaign and issue management. Average salaries will vary greatly due to location, company, industry, and experience, but are expected to range from $30,000 to $50,000 for new W. P. Carey graduates.
