Geoffrey Huston

Geoffrey Huston came to work at Arizona State University in 2005, in the Morrison School of Agribusiness as the Internship Coordinator for the Professional Golf Management Program. In 2008, Geoffrey was promoted to Assistant Director and in 2011 was promoted to Director of the Professional Golf Management Program. In February of 2014, Geoffrey joined the W. P. Carey School Business Career Center team as a Career Coach at the Polytechnic campus. In August of 2014, Geoffrey accepted the position as Undergraduate Programs Coordinator responsible for student engagement, business career services, and admissions/recruiting for the W. P. Carey School of Business at the Polytechnic Campus.

Geoffrey earned his Bachelor of Science degree from Arizona State University in Agribusiness from the Morrison School of Agribusiness in 2003. In 2009, Geoffrey graduated from Arizona State University with the degree of Master of Science Agribusiness from the W. P. Carey School of Business.

When Geoffrey is not at work he enjoys spending time with his wife Alison and their 6 year old son Jakob. Geoffrey is an outdoors man and enjoys camping, fishing, and is an avid golfer. Most of all Geoffrey is proud to be a Sun Devil for life.

Why do you enjoy working with W. P. Carey Students?

I enjoy working with undergraduate students from freshman year to senior year and get the most satisfaction when students graduate from the W. P. Carey School of Business and receive their first job offer after graduation.

If you could only give one piece of advice to students, what would that be?

The one piece of advice that I can give anyone is that if you do what you love you will never work a day in your life. Make sure that whatever your major or career aspirations are, that you will love what you do at the end of the day.
